POSTER SESSIONS
Abstract:

Objective: objective of the present project is planning, assessing, and enforcing the preventive training course of drug abuse for the secondary school students. Method: The students questionnaire on the drug were then studied based on the concerned fundamental theories and the previous tools for the fundamental project. Two groups of the third year secondary school students were selected in the witness group pretest posttest semi tested project. Then the groups were pre-tested based on (researcher prepared questionnaire) therefore, the test group training course was held for four sessions and then the posttest was hold. Finally, the data were analyzed by t test, and covariance analysis. Finding: There has been a meaningful difference in the view of the witness test group concerning the negative view of the drug abuse, thus, the mentioned course could more extensively be used for the primary prevention of the drug abuse.
